The Eliot Bequest

The College received 368 volumes previously belonging to T.S. Eliot and his wife Valerie in 2013. They can be divided into three main categories:

- Books by T.S.Eliot (including many first editions with dedication inscriptions)
- Books owned by T.S. Eliot for his personal reading and study (some of which contain marginalia in Eliot's hand)
- Translations of T.S.Eliot's work into other languages (including many first editions with dedication inscriptions. Some of the translations were given to Valerie Eliot by Faber and Faber after T.S. Eliot's death in 1965).

Gallup' refers to Gallup, D. : Eliot : A bibliography (London, Faber and Faber, 1952).

The translations of T.S. Eliot's work in the bequest can be summarised below:
